

NUMBER 66

TUESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1885.

The Louisville Commercial has donned a new dress that gives it a much improved appearance.

Fox carried the following counties over Tate: Butler, Clay, Clinton, Lewis, Lyon, Ohio, Rockcastle and Whitley. Only two of these are Democratic counties.

Miss Cleveland's book continues to sell and is in process of translation into the Russian, German, French and Italian languages. The book is now in its twelfth edition.

A newly arrived Irish girl died in Camden, N. J., Friday with every symptom of Asiatic cholera. The town is very much excited over the case and a rigid investigation is being made.

A joint meeting of ex-Federal and ex-Confederate soldiers has been called to meet at Owensboro Oct. 22, 23 and 24. Gen. D. C. Buell and Gen. S. B. Buckner will be invited to make speeches.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, of England, was married in London Saturday to Mrs. Amy Augusta Jackson Lawford, an American widow. He met her three years ago on an ocean voyage.

110 counties have been heard from and Tate's vote is 101,060 and Fox's 37,138, making Tate's majority 63,920. The counties of Floyd, Henry, Lawrence, Letcher, McCracken, McLean, Warren and Wolfe which are yet to hear from will increase Tate's majority several thousand.

The Hopkinsville South Kentuckian employs a stenographer on all important occasions. — Breckenridge News.

This is a mistake. The editor of the South Kentuckian has devoted some attention to the study of stenography, and has picked up a sufficient knowledge of the subject to enable him to do his own short-hand reporting.

David A. Murphy, the rantankerous, rip-snorting, Republican rant of the late unlamented Danville Tribune, has been fired out of his place as Superintendent of the public building at Frankfort. Murphy waged a bitter warfare upon Cleveland during the campaign, publishing every lie and scandal set afloat. The words of his own mouth condemned him, as his paper was filled as evidence of offensive partisanship. Capt. W. E. Grubbs, of Boyle county, was appointed to supersede Murphy.

A well-meaning friend criticizes the phrase "funeral obsequies," used in last week's Republic. A criticism to be worth anything should amount to something. "Funeral obsequies" is correct. Milton says:

"Him I'll solemnly attend
With silent obsequy and train."
Obsequy has reference to the last duty performed to a deceased person, and funeral, used as an adjective, means gloomy. Hence "funeral obsequies," the last gloomy rites or duty performed at the grave or place of burial of any one. — The Republic.

The September number of Demorest's Illustrated Monthly Magazine is decidedly one of the best we have had. The story, "Bryanstone and Wife," by Philip Bourke Marston is a capital one, and "Orders of Knighthood," and illustrated article, "A Happy Island," "The Story of Ludwig Spohr," "A Maid of Honor of the Last Century," and "An Old Italian City," are well worth reading. The various departments are carefully filled, and contain much that is useful in the household. The frontispiece is a fine oil picture, called "Good-Bye."

There are two new names to add to the list of Legislators published a few days ago. In the district composed of Leslie, Bell, Harlan and Perry counties, which was the only one not heard from, Wright Kelly, Rep., was elected. (The district was represented in the last Legislature by J. M. Unthank, Dem.) In the district composed of Butler and Edmondson, H. C. Webb, Rep., was elected instead of E. M. Harvey as reported. This makes the revised and correct list stand in the House: Democrats 79; Republicans 20; Independent 1. In the Senate there will be 35 Democrats and three Republicans as reported. The Republicans therefore have 23 members, a gain of 7.

Henry Freese, colored, was hanged at Callettsburg Friday, in the presence of 3000 persons, for the murder of Chester Honaker. He neither confessed or denied his guilt, merely saying on the scaffold: "Friends, I bid you all good-bye. I hope to meet you all in a better world. Good-bye." His neck was not broken and he died from strangulation.

Last May Honaker and a party of men attempted to gain admission to a house of ill-repute at Callettsburg and were denied. Their efforts to break in caused a woman to leave the house by the back door and go in search of an officer. Meeting Freese she asked him to go for the marshal. He responded that he was marshal enough for that party, and went with the woman to the house, entering through a rear door. Once inside he fired through the door, killing Honaker and wounding two of his companions. He was promptly arrested, indicted, tried and convicted within a few days. This was the only legal execution ever occurring in Boyd county.

THE DIREFUL SCOURGE.

The Cholera Still Spreading.

SPAIN AND FRANCE.

MADRID, Aug. 13.—There were 4,433 new cases of cholera reported throughout Spain yesterday, and 1,648 deaths from the disease.

Granada is suffering most from cholera. The people attribute the visitation to divine wrath, and wear amulets to preserve them from the disease. The priests and Sisters of Charity are assiduous night and day in attending to the wants of the sufferers. The Archbishop has sold his equipage in order to obtain money for relief measures, and has offered his palace as a hospital. Scores of the victims of the disease drop and die in the streets, where, in many cases, they remain for hours before they are gathered up at night for a hurried and unceremonious burial in a common trench.

Thirty-five new cases of cholera and thirty-one deaths from the disease were reported in this city to-day. In the provinces outside of the city there were seventy-five new cases and eighteen deaths. The Director of Public Works and the wife of another government official have succumbed to the disease. The municipal authorities have decided to demolish the slums. Quiet has been restored in Seville. In Saragossa the condition of affairs is improving. Granada suffers from a lack of doctors, and medical students have been detailed to attend to patients.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Reports received to-day from Marseilles state that the cholera there has received a fresh impetus, owing to the extreme heat. The number of new cases has steadily increased and the disease is unusually fatal in consequence of the heat.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 13.—There were thirty-five deaths from cholera in this city to-day. Thirteen patients were admitted to the Pharo Hospital, five of whom subsequently died.

MADRID, Aug. 14.—In Granada the cholera is increasing fearfully. In the province outside the city there have been reported to-day 218 deaths from the disease and 485 new cases, and in the city 213 deaths and 455 new cases. Through popular agitation sanitary interference has been renewed in Seville. The local authorities have all resigned. The shops are closed, no business is done, and the scourge has an unobstructed field.

The Gazette says that during the past twenty-four hours 5,000 new cases of cholera and 1,950 deaths from the disease were reported throughout all Spain.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 14.—All vessels arriving here from Portuguese ports are quarantined. There have been altogether only three fatal cases of cholera here, and the house in which the victims lived had forty-seven occupants and was in a bad sanitary condition. The Spanish Consul reports that cholera has appeared with in the Spanish lines.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—The cholera is spreading to the environs of Marseilles. La Liberte asserts that cholera has appeared at Hancal and other places on Red River.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 14.—There has been twenty deaths from cholera here to-day. At the Pharo Hospital eight cases were admitted, and two patients died. There are now fifty-three patients under treatment in the hospital.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 15.—There were thirty-seven deaths from cholera during the past twenty-four hours ending at noon to-day.

MADRID, Aug. 15.—There were 4,819 new cases of cholera and 1,840 deaths from the disease reported yesterday throughout Spain.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—The National, the first journal to announce the appearance of cholera at Marseilles, insists that the number of deaths that have occurred there from the disease is still much underrated.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 15.—The existence of cholera within the Spanish lines was officially declared to-day and the disease is spreading. There were four deaths here to-day from cholera, traced to infection contracted on Spanish soil. A deputation waited on the governor of Gibraltar to-day and requested him to shut off communication with Spain. This he refused to do. The panic increases hourly and the exodus grows correspondingly. The populace are greatly discouraged over the conduct of the military authorities in refusing to adopt the necessary precautions against the introduction of cholera from Spain.

To the Farmers of Kentucky.

In order to direct the attention of the wheat growers of this State where to obtain Seed Wheat of the best varieties grown in Kentucky, the Annual Wheat Show will be held at my office in Frankfort, on Wednesday, September 2, 1885.

On that day, the following premiums will be awarded by competent, impartial judges:

For the best sample of White Wheat No. 1, 1885	10 00
For the best sample of White Wheat No. 2, 1885	10 00
For the best sample of Red Wheat No. 1, 1885	10 00
For the best sample of Red Wheat No. 2, 1885	10 00
For the best sample of Red Wheat, "Long berry," 1885	10 00
For the best sample of Red Wheat, "Long berry," 1885	10 00

Each sample must be sent in a separate package, marked with the name and postoffice of the exhibitor, and the name of the variety, and the package may be sent by freight or express at the charge of my office. Each sample must contain not less than one-half bushel.

It is my purpose to purchase about fifty bushels of the premium wheat of each variety, for distribution over the State, through the members elect to the next Legislature in the various counties.

JOHN F. DAVIS,
Commissioner of Agriculture, &c.

Western Kentucky and the Senatorship.

[Louisville Post.]

If Western Kentucky hopes to get the next Senatorship her leading men cannot compose their differences and come to an understanding too soon. That section has been long neglected and even despised by the dominant Bluegrass influence, and the contempt with which its aspirants have been treated is due chiefly to two causes—the rancorous rivalries of its leaders and the selfish intrigues of the petty politicians who have been sent to represent those counties in the conventions and in the Legislature.

The differences among the former have been bitter and uncompromising, while the latter have kept their ears open to every bid made by the cunning tricksters of the Bluegrass, who have been profuse in their promises when they wanted the aid of the Western delegations, and scornfully indifferent to them after their objects have been accomplished. The dupes seem to learn nothing from experience. Each convention and each Legislature has illustrated the folly of their credulity. They breathe threatening and hatreds for a short time, but they return to the same crib to be fed again with the same husks of worthless promises and violated pledges. All they get is a few nauseous puffs from the newspaper organs of the dominant clique, which are sent home marked to be re-published in their local papers. These they hug to their bosoms as so much immortality, and vainly imagine themselves great statesmen and brilliant orators. It is pitiful to see this ever-recurring illustration of weakness and conceit, and to note the poor fruit it bears.

It is idle to tell that Western Kentucky is over-taxed; that all discriminations are made against their section, and none in its favor; that the fine turnpikes of Central and Eastern Kentucky have been constructed at their expense; that they pay as high tax on some of their horses, worth seventy-five dollars, as a rich farmer in Bluegrass pays on a thoroughbred that would bring $20,000 any day under the hammer, and that they even pay the expense of keeping up several Eastern counties. What's all that compared to the promise of an irresponsible Upper Kentucky politician who assures first one credulous fool and then another that he shall be put on the next State ticket as Auditor or Attorney-General, or perhaps as Lieutenant Governor.

It is more than probable that Western Kentucky can elect the next Senator if her Representatives will act in something like harmony and concentrate upon a strong man, of whom there are several. But it is idle to hope for success otherwise.

POND RIVER.

FERGUSONVILLE, Ky., Aug. 13, '85.

A general rain fell throughout this neighborhood Tuesday last.

The tobacco crop will be inferior to that raised last year. In the Fairview and Laytonville districts tobacco has fared, owing to a superabundance of rain some weeks ago. So those who are counting on a good tobacco crop may prepare themselves to be disappointed.

In my last communication the typo who set it up made a mistake. Instead of "Jno. W. Wicks is not occupying his new store," it should have been "he now occupies his new store."

Mr. H. H. Sarver, of Sharon Grove, has a photograph gallery here. He is a clever gentleman and a good artist.

Mrs. Anderson Fears, who has been quite sick, I am pleased to say is improving.

Died, on the 9th inst., an infant son of Mr. Anderson Fears.

Mr. Aleck Walker, general county produce dealer, has been hauling marketing from this portion of the county for sixteen years, and has never failed to make his weekly call. This is one of the most remarkable incidents recorded in Christian county's business transactions.

Mr. C. W. Meacham has six acres of early planted tobacco, the leaves of which will average 30x18 inches. While this crop is an exception, there are many greatly inferior.

The saw-dust dance and picnic advertised to take place to-morrow at Winders' Store, promises to be an enjoyable affair.

SAMARITAN NERVE NEVER FAILS.

"You claim too much for SAMARITAN NERVE," says a skeptic. "How can one medicine be a specific for Epilepsy, Dyspepsia, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Rheumatism, Spasmodic, or Senile Weakness, and fifty other complaints? No claim is made simply, because the virtue of all diseases arises from the blood. To Nerve, Resolvent, Alterative and Laxative properties meet all the conditions herein referred to. It is known to all who use it."

THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR

It cures and composes the patient—not by the introduction of potent and drastic cathartics, but by the restoration of activity to the stomach and nervous system, whereby the brain is relieved of morbid fancies, which are created by the causes above referred to.

Mr. Geo. W. Gibson left yesterday for Ft. Worth, Texas, whither he goes to accept a position in a large wholesale dry goods establishment. Mr. Gibson is a young man whom it is a pleasure for us to recommend to strangers as a gentleman of honesty, sobriety and strict integrity of purpose in all things. We regret to lose him from our midst, but he carries with him to his new home our best wishes for success in all his undertakings.
Mess. L. G. Williams & Co., insert a conspicuous advertisement in this issue setting forth the different kinds of implements they handle. This firm handles the Empire Drill, which has given satisfaction among the farmers wherever used, and they are meeting with flattering success introducing them in this section. This house is one of our most reliable implement houses, and handles everything in their line. They make a specialty of wind mills and have just put up several for different farmers.
The following Democrats have received appointments as government storekeepers in this district: Col. J. F. Gentry, Trigg county; Major Webb F. Hawes, Daviess county; Messrs. Arch D. Brown, Henderson county, J. O. Madden, Hancock county, and James M. Glass, Christian county. Collector Wood has recommended the appointment of thirty-five Democrats to date, which is a very encouraging outlook for the boys, as his recommendation is tantamount to appointment.—Owensboro Inquirer.
A prominent farmer of the Garrettsburg neighborhood sold his wheat in this city last week, having failed to get a price at Howell sufficient to justify him in shipping over the L. A. & T. road. He stored his wheat in the depot at Howell early in the season, but could not get more than 85 cents offered for his crop. After waiting until last week for better prices he concluded to bring it here, which he did and sold at 95 cents per bushel. Another farmer living on the other side of the new railroad also hauled his crop to this city and sold it for ten cents more than he could get at his nearest shipping point.
The survey of the H. & C. railroad line was completed to the Trigg county line Saturday. The "crawfoot" is made in Col. J. M. Dodd's field, on the Buttermilk road about two miles from the city. The Cadiz branch runs from Dodd's Junction down the valley of Hawthorn creek to Sinking Fork creek, crossing that stream at Mr. J. J. Smith's. It then passes through Esq. H. B. Clark's field to McGee's store and thence on the left side of the Cadiz road to Bryant's Station. The estimates are now being made on the cost of the branch line, which was equally as good as the main stem already surveyed.

HEADLONG TO DEATH.

Thos. Crowdon killed on the Railroad Yesterday.
THE CORONER'S INQUEST.
Thos. Crowdon, conductor on the north-bound freight train, due here at 1:15 P. M. was killed on the bridge about one mile south of town, yesterday afternoon. None of the employees on the train saw the accident. Crowdon was not missed until the train stopped at Hopkinsville and when it was found that he was missing, the engine was sent back to look for him. The body was found lying about the middle of the bridge, on the west side, outside the rail and the man was dead. His neck was broken and there were several horrible cuts and gashes about the head and face. The body was brought back to the city and an inquest held by Coroner Kelly.
THE INQUEST.
H. E. Bateman, fireman, Jas. R. Grigg, engineer, and Tom Davis, Mike Jennings and Frank Copp, the brakemen on the train, which was No. 62, were introduced before the jury. They united in the opinion that Crowdon was attempting to climb the side-ladder of the caboose and was knocked off by the upright of the bridge. The accident occurred about 1:10 P. M. Crowdon lived at Edgfield, Tenn., and leaves a wife and two or three small children. He was about 28 or 30 years old and had been running on this road for about two years. The coroner's jury was composed of R. M. Anderson, W. R. Long, John Blythe, Sam Hawkins, col., Harry Coleman, col., and Dock Batfield, col. The verdict returned was in accordance with the facts above stated. The accident was in all probability due to Crowdon's own carelessness, as he could not have been ignorant of the location and character of the bridge. He was last seen by the men on the train at Casky station, 5 miles from the city.
Mr. J. W. I. Smith, local agent, had the body taken back to Edgfield on the 4:48 passenger train.
NO HOMICIDE.
The Facts at Last About the Casky Shooting.
CASKY, Ky., Aug. 18, '85.
ED. SOUTH KENTUCKIAN:
We are having so many different accounts and blood-curdling statements in regard to the little shooting scrape near this place on the night of the 3rd inst., that I would like to give a correct version of the affair if you have no objections. The facts are simply these:
There was a "festibal" on Squire Warfield's plantation on the night of August 3rd, whisky was very common as usual, and when the crowd began to leave about midnight a quarrel arose between Pres. Fleming and another darkey about which one should escort a certain sable damsel home, pistols were drawn and about twenty shots were fired altogether. In dodging around Pres. Fleming ran against a stray bullet which penetrated his cheek and lodged in his neck. No one knows who fired that bullet. He is as thoroughly unknown as the "man who struck Billy Patterson." The wounded man is long ago out of danger and going about. The papers said at one time that Jim Higgins had killed John Willis and later that John had killed Jim and skipped. Those accounts were wronging two good people. Jim Higgins is a white man and is connected with the New Era in some way. I can find no one who saw him at the "festibal" that night, so it is to be surmised that he was not present, that lets Jim Higgins out. As for John Willis, he is a sober colored man, honest and industrious, a "deakin" in de church, and while the "sturbance" was in full blast John was safe at home asleep literally under his own ground vine. John says none but the most pleasant feelings exist between him and Mr. Higgins, and that he is quite sure that Mr. Higgins never killed him. Let the "horrible murder at Casky" now fade into the bygone.
Yours Truly,
ICONOCLAST.

TWINS.
Born, to the wife of Judge J. C. Brasher, on the 14th inst., two bouncing boys. Judge Brasher is still undecided, but thinks he will name the youngsters for U. S. Grant and Robt. E. Lee. This would be a fitting manner to commemorate the new era that is dawning upon our country, that is destined to obliterate sectional lines and re-unite the country in one common brotherhood of States.
